24-hour adoration is the third Tuesday of each month. This month it is July 21-22. We would like to have a minimum of two people each hour, especially during the overnight hours. To make this happen, we need 7-8 more people. If you are not able to sign up for a permanent hour you may sign up for one month at a time. Indicate your intention on the sign-up sheet on the pump table, near the front door or call Diane at 817-229-6789. Please prayerfully consider helping with this once a month ministry.

Here is a thought from last week's homily: This Good News is not ours to horde and protect. It is not our job to judge who is worthy to hear it and who is not. The good news is for all!

In my family there is a treasure chest of expertise: farming, engineering, medicine, business, transportation, risk management, city infrastructure, university systems, theology, law, and education. When we get together, we are more interested in talking about our family heritage and history than insurance and banking.

Jesus called to people from every area of life. They set aside their expertise and became disciples of a carpenter who was the son of carpenter. Jesus did not teach them about wood and stone; he taught them about the kingdom of God. Eventually this became the family heritage and history of the apostles and disciples—to understand that we are children of God and that everything else on earth is at the service of faith.

Somethings serve earthly kingdoms; somethings serve the kingdom of heaven. A challenge for Christians is to remember the purpose of work is to support and serve the family and that the family is the first and most important school for holiness.

"We know that all things work for good for those who love God, who are called according to his purpose." (Romans 8:28)

Do you really trust God? Do you really believe that God will provide all that you need? Faith is a challenge for everyone at times. Putting our trust in God, in everything we do, in good times and in bad, means that God's plan for our lives may be quite different than what we planned. When one door closes, another one opens. Trust in God, His plan is always better.
