Here is a thought from last week's homily: When it is time to pray, the disciples are asleep!

All of us have tapes playing in your minds regarding our identity. Some of the messages are true and affirming, some of them are true and challenging, and some of them are lies.

Imagine a girl who grows up with parents that scream and fight and direct their anger at her, "You are the problem. You are ugly. We wish you were not here." She may grow up believing these things about herself. The heart of Jesus is torn open, bleeding and bruised by these offenses against human dignity. His precious daughter has been lied to, and she believes the lie.

I am a farmer. I am a grandma! I am the husband of Mary. I am a child of God. I am... Whatever we believe about ourselves, it must be true, and it must affirm the dignity of people created by a heavenly Father that loves us. God not only loves us; God adores us! God has created us for heaven, and between here and heaven, God can't wait to see the amazing things we do, things born out of faith, hope and charity.

Knowing who made us and that heaven is our destiny, we are challenged to uphold the dignity of our brothers and sisters in Christ, and even of our enemies.

When a man is ordained a deacon, he is given a Book of the Gospels with these words, "Receive the Gospel of Christ, whose herald you now are. Believe what you read, teach what you believe, and practice what you teach." The deacon responds by receiving the book but says nothing. In this case, his silence is consent.

If you struggle with self-esteem, if you beat yourself up daily with old lies, break the silence. You are a child of God. You are loved. Do not consent to these destructive messages. Begin to rebuild your identity by upholding the dignity of these around you. Near and far.

The CD of The Month is "The Crisis of Happiness -- Hurting, Addicting & Healing", by Jim Owens. When you hear the word "addiction", what typically comes to mind? Needles? Alcohol? Pills? As Jim Owens, MA,LPC explains, addiction is much simpler, including everything from substances to technology, screen time, work, shopping, and even sugar. Addictions and distractions are used to manage pain--but in the process, end up damaging our brains, our relationships, and our ability to find lasting happiness. Jim gives scientific evidence and practical advice for overcoming wounds, to help hurt people become healed people. This CD and many others are available by the stained glass window in the back of the church. An envelope is available for your $3 donation to the Christian Mothers who sponsor this project.

The Liturgical Ministry schedule for April through June is now available both online and in the kiosk in the Hall of Saints. All those who are involved in liturgical ministries are asked to obtain a copy.
