If You Forget, You Will Not Forgive

Turning away from his brothers, Joseph wept.

When we forgive someone, we do not forget the hurtful act, as if forgetting came along with the forgiveness package, the way strings come with a violin.

Begin with basics. If you forget, you will not forgive at all. You can never forgive people for things you have forgotten about. You need to forgive precisely because you have not forgotten what someone did; your memory keeps the pain alive long after the actual hurt has stopped. Remembering is your storage of pain. It is why you need to be healed in the first place.

Forgetting, in fact, may be a dangerous way to escape the inner surgery of the heart that we call forgiving. There are two kinds of pain that we forget. We forget hurts too trivial to bother about. We forget pains too horrible for our memory to manage. . . .

The pains we dare not remember are the most dangerous pains of all. We fear to face some horrible thing that once hurt us, and we stuff it into the black holes of our unconsciousness where we suppose it cannot hurt us. But it only comes back disguised; it is like a demon wearing an angel's face. It lays low for a while only to slug us later, on the sly. . . .

Enough, then, to light up a warning sign: never mistake forgetting for forgiving.

Once we have forgiven, however, we get a new freedom to forget. This time forgetting is a sign of health; it is not a trick to avoid spiritual surgery. We can forget because we have been healed.

But even if it is easier to forget after we forgive, we should not make forgetting a test of our forgiving. The test of forgiving lies with healing the lingering pain of the past, not with forgetting that the past ever happened.

If you or someone you know has been the victim of sexual misconduct on the part of a priest, deacon, or individual representing the Diocese of Crookston, its parishes, or its schools, your first call should be to law enforcement. In addition, the diocesan Victim Assistance Coordinator is available at 218-281-7895 (24-hour confidential number).

Announcements

We are in need of more parish members to help with cleaning of the church and fellowship hall. It is 1 night a month for about 2-3 hours. Many hands make light work!

Question of the week: When has my compassion for someone or for others pushed aside my own needs? How can I put others' needs first more often?

Before we returned to our pre-Covid Mass schedule, a number of Masses had been scheduled for Saturday Evening Mass. There were many, and it was difficult to accommodate your scheduling differences. The following Masses have been rescheduled to the dates given below:

The 2021 - 2022 Safe Environment training module for the Diocese of Crookston is now available. Our Safe Environment year begins on July 1st, 2021 and runs through June 30th, 2022. Safe Environment certification is necessary for every adult volunteer or employee age 18 or older in the Diocese of Crookston who has the potential for unsupervised contact with children or vulnerable adults.

Certification includes a criminal background check, training related to recognizing and reporting child abuse, and agreement to abide by the Diocesan Safe Environment Policy and Code of Conduct.

Please go online to www.crookston.org/offices/safeenvironment/certification to complete the certification. When you complete the test and hit submit, you should see your test scores with a message that says you are finished. If you don't see this message, you will have to retake it. Please complete your Safe Environment by August 1, 2021. See Marlys with any questions.

“He said to them, “Come away by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while.”

MARK 6:31

Do you spend time, every day, alone and in silence listening to how God is calling you? If not, you are missing out on a wonderful opportunity to develop a more personal relationship with Him. Unless we talk and, more importantly listen, to God every day, how else will we know how He is calling us? Consider making a retreat this year, spending some “alone” time with God.

PRAYER REQUESTS:

A PRAYER TO PRAY FOR THE PEOPLE BELOW: Lord, we pray for your loving support for the people listed below and their families as they deal with their illnesses. Guide the doctors who are seeking answers and making decisions about care/ treatments. We pray that their illness is at a stage favorable for effective treatment. Enable their bodies to respond well to care/treatment and their soul to experience comfort and peace in you. Make this an experience that draws them and their loved ones closer to you as well as to one another. We commit them to your mercy. Amen
