Here is a thought from last week's homily: Jesus raised his eyes...he saw the large crowd coming.

Victor was elected Pope in 189. At the time, not all Christians celebrated Easter at the same time. Some celebrated it on the date of the anniversary of the resurrection. Jesus rose from the dead on a Sunday--the first day of the week. If Easter was to be celebrated on the day, it meant that Easter was a different day of the week every year. This is how we celebrate our birthdays. I was born on June 9, a Sunday in 1963. This year my birthday was celebrated on a Wednesday.

After much negotiation, Pope Victor was successful in finding a consensus that Easter would be celebrated annually, on a Sunday. It would be the Sunday following the first full moon after the Spring Equinox.

The consensus didn't last. Even today Orthodox Christians celebrate Easter on a Sunday, but it does not usually fall on the same Sunday as other Christians. They are following the Julian calendar--a calendar created by Julius Caesar in 46 BC, while we are following the Gregorian Calendar, created by Gregory the Great in 1582. Here is the difference.

Julius determined that the lunar year consists of 365 and 1/4 days. To accommodate the 1/4 year, an extra day was added to the calendar every four years, thus leap year. Gregory discovered that the lunar year consists of 365 days, five hours, 48 minutes and 45.25 seconds. From the creation of the Julian calendar to the time of Gregory, this difference accounted for 10 days. So, Pope Gregory marched the calendar ahead 10 days. (And some of us complain about day light savings time!)

At a moment like this, I am amazed at the complexity of things, all things, even days, dates and times. I do appreciate the intuition of Pope Victor in 189 AD. He saw value in a consensus of times and dates. Imagine if a family was divided by commitments to different calendars. It would not be possible for us to celebrate anything together. Some would offer to celebrate my birthday on June 9, others would insist on May 30, and the convictions would be so strong that battles would be fought over cake.

Today, the days of a calendar pass without our awareness that another calendar exists. Maybe we can put aside family squabbles, even 99% of them. Let us treat one another with charity, find reasons to celebrate and make sacrifices to be present, to give presents, and to eat cake together.

Morning Prayer Mon. Tues. Wed. Thurs. and Fri. @ 8:30am before Mass or Communion Service. The Liturgy of the hours and Divine Mercy Chaplet are prayed at this time. Books are available.

"Each day the people are to go out and gather their daily portion; thus, will I test them, to see whether they follow my instructions or not." EXODUS 16:4

When the Israelites gathered more than their daily portion of manna, the surplus became wormy and rotten. In the same way today, self-reliance, pride and ego leads to hoarding and excessive surplus of goods and money. Living a stewardship lifestyle helps us discern our "wants" from our "needs". Living a grateful and generous lifestyle reminds us that God will provide all that we need and that we have plenty to share.

The next groups meet for six consecutive weeks on Thursdays from August 26-September 30, 2021. There will be a morning group at 10 a.m. and an evening group at 7 p.m. Each session is structured around prayer, scripture, faith-sharing, and fellowship.
