Here is a thought from last week's homily: Mary was unique. She was the mother of God. You and every person on earth, before there is anything unique in us, are first children of God, radically the same. We are children of God subject to Jesus Christ, the way, the truth, and the life.

I have been pouting for about three months. The new battery I got for my scooter last year was dead this spring. I have been putting off replacing for no reason other than I am pouting. A battery ought to last for more than one year in a scooter, or so I think.

The new battery has a warranty of six months. It will expire in February, which is of course the peak of scooter weather in Minnesota. In April or May of 2022, I will put the new battery back in the scooter, after winter storage, and hope for the best.

When I was checking out, the guy at the till smiled at me and said, "You will be pleased. This new battery is as good as the old one." I am not sure what his intention was. To my ears it was discouraging--the old battery was not pleasing at all.

A portion of joy in life comes from managing our own expectations. If I had known on the day I bought it that the heavy whipping cream in my fridge (for my morning coffee) will expire on August 18, so why will I be mad when my coffee is sour on August 23? If my in-laws have been a challenge for as long as I have known them, why am I fit to be tied every December 16?

A battery has a life expectancy. Cream will expire. People who annoy me are not evil--they are merely different. We can pout and be mad if we want. We can talk about the in-laws from Christmas to the Fourth of July. It is good to remember that one day our remains will be placed into the earth. We will have expired. Our due date will have arrived. The perspective of eternity ought to make us more charitable. For we who are dust, eternity ought to help us manage our expectations.

Morning Prayer Mon. Tues. Wed. Thurs. and Fri. @ 8:30am before Mass or Communion Service. The Liturgy of the hours and Divine Mercy Chaplet are prayed at this time. Books are available.

2021 is a milestone year for Bishop Emeritus Balke. On Sept. 2 he will celebrate the 45th anniversary of his episcopal ordination and on Sept. 29 he turns 90 years old. An open house to recognize these milestones will take place at Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Crookston, on Sunday, Sept. 12 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. All Diocese of Crookston faithful are invited. Please spread the word!

Christine Dornbusch will be out of the office from Sept. 28th to Oct. 8th.

If you would like something posted in the bulletin during those dates you will need to get it to the office by Sept.21st, so she can prepare for those weekend bulletins. Please be proactive and plan ahead for your events to be advertised and posted in the bulletin.

"If it does not please you to serve the Lord, decide today whom you will serve...As for me and my household, we will serve the Lord." JOSHUA 24:15

When we commit to serve the Lord, we must be willing to become a disciple in the work of the Lord. A disciple is a person who spends time in prayer every day, joyfully participates in charitable works and generously supports their local parish and Church mission. If we say we serve God, we must actually do something and not merely talk about it!
