How to Teach Your Children to Forgive

We know that worldliness is sinful, after all, the bible says so, right? "Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him." (1 John 2:15) Well, there it is in black and white, yet how many times have we said, "I just love _____!" (You can fill in the blank). As we read that verse, our eyes keep focusing on the phrase, "the things in the world". So just what does that include? Everything! It would be safe to say that everything God hates the devil loves. We're familiar with the list of sins found in Proverbs 6: 16-19 or Galatians 5:19-21 and other passages that name sinful behavior, but have we considered that Satan loves (in a twisted way) even the good things of the world? He has a fondness for those things that would seem perfectly innocent, because he can use them to distract us from God. Satan transforms himself into an angel of light (2 Cor. 11:14), and if he can do that, he can certainly deceive us into loving the things of the world too much! Here is a short list of examples, which is by no means complete: The devil has a perverted love for family gatherings, weekend get-aways, youth sports, Saturday night concerts, hunting, fishing, golf, vacations, anniversaries, holidays, dance or music recitals, children's plays, graduations, gardening, and more. All of these things can be things we "love" to do, but draw us away from the Mass, or bible studies, or prayer and learning, or being of service to others. Not only do we harm our spirituality when we excuse ourselves from the Lord's service to do things we enjoy, but we can be sending the wrong message to our children, to friends, and to members of our community. As human beings, we have the capacity to ruin almost anything. With anything good in the world, if we hold it higher than God, it becomes an idol for us and can tempt us into damnation. Conversely, we human beings, when elevated by the grace of God, can use any good and noble thing in this world to draw us closer to God. Please consider how you value your hobbies and interests.
