We hear the Story of Adam & Eve in the Garden of Eden in this Sunday's Scriptures. We all know the ancient writings on the Fall of Mankind in the Garden after our first parents ate the fruit of the forbidden tree. We know the destruction, and misery, and sin that action brought into the world.

Since before the birth of Christ, first the Israelite people, and then the Christians thought and spoke of a New Adam who would come and save us from our sins and repair the damage done to this world. They predicted that this new Adam would sprout from the stump of Jesse, meaning that the Messiah would be a descendant of Jesse. They predicted there would be a new Tree of Life to replace the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil. Since the moment of the Crucifixion, Christians have seen his glorious cross as that new Tree of Life, and Christ, Our Lord, as the new man who would restore and save the world. The fruit that falls from the new Tree of Life that will restore the world and save us from eternal death is the flesh and blood of Christ that hung that "tree" on a hill named Calvary around two thousand years ago.

 - Mark 3:24*

Within your parish community, do your ministries collaborate with each other or do they compete against each other? Do your parish ministries work for the greater glory of God or do they work for the glory of the people running them? The primary goal of parish ministry is not to increase Mass attendance, increase the number of volunteers or increase offertory. The primary goal is to be one Body of Christ that helps people take one step closer to Jesus. If it's not doing that, it's not worth doing.

Tenth Sunday in Ordinary Time (B)

Genesis 3:9-15 / 2 Corinthians 4:13-5:1 / Mark 3:20-35

FR. JOSEPH JUKNIALIS

Paul Gauguin, a Post-Impressionist painter from France (1848–1903), lived part of his life in Tahiti, which inspired his artistic work. His last piece is titled Where Do We Come From? What Are We? Where Are We Going? It depicts Tahitian women in various daily activities of life—a child, a young adult, and an old woman approaching death. Gauguin's middle question, "What Are We?" is similar to God's question of Adam in the Garden, "Where are you?" In contemporary jargon, both questions may echo our asking someone, "Where are you at?" It's not about where our body may be, but rather where our spirit is, where our heart is.

Like Adam, some can find themselves hiding from God. That may be where they are "at." All too often, the reason we hide from God is because we forget or choose not to remember where we come from—birthed by God into life. When we hide, whether from God, from our better selves, or from the demands and expectations of life, then we find ourselves frozen, going nowhere, failing to become the person God created us to be. Sin does that to us. It turns us in upon ourselves in a way that prevents us from growing into a full life. With sin in charge, our spirits become petrified, like dead wood, an image of what once was but will be no more. Where are you at? ●

What is original sin?

Original sin is the sin that occurred at the origins of the human race. "Although he was made by God in a state of holiness, from the very onset of his history man abused his liberty, at the urging of the Evil One. Man set himself against God and sought to attain his goal apart from God" (Pastoral Constitution on the Church in the Modern World, [Gaudium et Spes], 13).

According to Genesis, a world of beauty was deformed by sin. The first two chapters tell how God created all things, including people, and saw that they were "very good." However, in chapter three, Adam rejects God and separates himself from God. Adam tries to hide from God, blames Eve for his sin, and experiences the pangs of guilt.

From this original sin, a host of evils followed, resulting in division, pain, bloodshed, loneliness, and death. The reality that this tragic, familiar narrative points to is a basic part of our experience. It is the teaching of the Church that every mortal born into this world, except the Virgin Mary, is affected by original sin. This means that each "descendant of Adam" (including us) is created without sanctifying grace and is subject to the inclination to sin and to death. Each of us needs redemption through the saving death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. ●

The Three Secrets to Sharing the Faith by Trent Horn

Want to tell others about your Catholic Faith, but don't know where to start? Afraid you're not smart enough, knowledgeable enough, or outgoing enough? Don't worry, says Catholic Answers apologist Trent Horn. With a few simple tips and a little practice, anyone can be an effective apostle and evangelist. In The Three Secrets to Sharing the Faith,

Sacrifice | The Catholic Parent | Episode 4

It's an understatement to say marriage demands a lot. Family life and raising children demand even more. Isn't fulfilling those duties enough? Why does the Church teach that we should fast, and what does that mean practically? In this episode, Sr. Rachel Marie discusses these questions alongside the real-life witness of Catholic families. Turning to the story of St. Gianna Beretta Molla will leave you with the confidence needed to practice fasting as a family.

The Ballad of Barnabus Bundle | Benjamin Cello | Episode 1

When Aunt Rhody loses Old Gray Goose and her potato crop too, Benjamin Cello breaks into his savings to help his friend in her time of need. Along the way, Aunt Rhody recalls the tragic tale of greedy Barnabus Bundle who tore down his barns to build bigger ones.
